Issue 6

Lack of leadership and team development to keep employees competitive, thus programmes that engage and make an impression on staff are needed

Remedy Mutiny on The Bounty

Procedure A team of 20 to 40 participants led by expert modern-day sailors go through tall-tail ship training on The Bounty, a replica of the 18th century H.M.A.V. Bounty.

There, they learn about life onboard a ship and experience a mutiny. The activity is said to be a 'valuable study in leadership styles by examining value-based leadership, prejudice, integrity and leading through persuasion'.

Sea and land-based elements, such as hiking, orienteering, kayaking, dragon boating and abseiling, can be added to the programme. The Bounty departs from Discovery Bay, Central or Tsim Sha Tsui in Hong Kong.

Location Hong Kong

Cost Vessel charter costs from HK$16,500 (US$2,117) for the first two hours, while the leadership programme is priced from HK$50,000

Team Challenge

Remedy Team Challenge

Procedure Focus Adventure sees participants of up to six persons per team climbing structures of 25m for the Team Challenge Pyramid or 30m for the Team Challenge Hourglass.

To foster teamwork, all team members are tied to each other. Along the climb, they will encounter obstacles they must overcome.

The only way they will get past this is if they work together to move the team forward. As a reward for reaching the top, a Flying Fox ride back to the ground awaits.

While doing the activity, facilitators observe team dynamics and give feedback during the debriefing session. Participants will then be asked to generate strategies on how to overcome future crises.

Location Singapore
